INDEX TO ARCHAEOLOGIA CAMBRENSIS 1981-2000

Compiled by Elizabeth Cook
Augmented with notes and lists by Donald Moore, with a contribution by H.P. Gwynne Morgan, and foreword by the President, Thomas Lloyd

This new index covers the contents of Archaeologia Cambrensis for the twenty years 1981 to 2000. References are given to persons, places, objects, topics and books cited in the pages of the annual volumes concerned. It follows the style, layout and conventions of the previous volume, Index to Archaeologia Cambrensis, 1961-1980.

The present volume continues two important innovations: a set of contents pages of the 20 volumes concerned, giving the titles of the principal articles by year, and also lists of sites visited during the Summer Meetings as cited in the programme booklets. There are the usual lists of meetings, presidents and editors, notes on special publications, two maps of Wales showing successive county boundaries, and an introduction to the index.

This will be an invaluable work of reference for an important period in Welsh archaeology. Its usefulness goes well beyond the provision of basic references to the text of the volumes. Many entries will provide sufficient detail to enable readers to decide at once whether a reference is relevant to their search. Welsh and English versions of place-names are given, as well Latin names of Roman sites. The volume is published by the Association with generous financial support towards the cost from a legacy by a Cambrian member, the late David Rees of Dryslwyn, Carmarthenshire, for which the Association records its gratitude.

Approximate number of pages: Ix + 180; publication in Spring of 2008.

Expected price: £17.50 (limp cover). Postage extra: £2.50 per volume (estimate).

A price will later be available for a bound copy (same style as previous volume).
